The company applies Dynamic Leverage which is a risk management tool that aims to minimize risks deriving from high volume trading since leverage is based per instrument by tiers instead of per account. In particular, margin requirements are set per symbol and automatically adapt in cases where the net number of lots on open positions increases or decreases in the client’s account. This is done per trading instrument.

The default maximum leverage applied by the company is 1:2000 (depending on your region).

More information on how the Company applies dynamic leverage, including the maximum leverage offered by the Company per symbol asset class is available here.
